

FALLING WALLS LAB HEIDELBERG

The organisers are independent partners of the Falling Walls Foundation.

Labsters wanted!

Your chance to present your own idea to the best from science and business at the renowned Falling Walls Conference!

A stage, a great idea and three minutes to present it. This is the Falling Walls Lab Heidelberg. The international forum offers emerging talents, innovators and creative minds the opportunity to present their research, ideas or business models. In the end, a jury from science and business decides which Labster will take part in the final Falling Walls Lab in Berlin on November 8th. There the best Labsters from 100+ events from all over the world compete against each other. The top three will receive prize money and the opportunity to present their topics on the big stage of the Falling Walls Conference the next day in front of more than 1000 international guests. At the international conference in Berlin, 100 leading global researchers will present scientific and social solutions to global challenges such as climate change, energy generation, health, security, fair and sustainable business. The goal is to tear down walls and overcome boundaries: in the mind, in thinking and in acting. The Heidelberg University, together with the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT), is organizing the Falling Walls Lab for southwestern Germany. Falling Walls Lab Heidelberg will be an online event hosted by Heidelberg University. If you want to take the chance, you can apply until April 30, 2020 at <http://falling-walls.com/lab/apply>.
